PROACTIVE PARTNERS TO OVERSEE

GM RENCEN CORPORATE FITNESS FACILITY

November 3, 2010—CHICAGO—Tennis Corporation of America announced today that its Proactive Partners division has been contracted to manage RenCen Fitness in the Renaissance Center, owned by General Motors, Detroit's premiere location for business, entertainment and recreation.

In its role, Proactive Partners will be the onsite manager for the RenCen Fitness Center's staffing with degreed and certified fitness professionals including group exercise and personal training. Proactive Partners will also make available health and well being promotions and programming for all RenCen tenants and provide professional consultation on the fitness center's equipment, layout and design.

Proactive Partners is one of the country's leading providers of management for health systems' and corporate fitness centers such as the facility at Detroit's General Motors Renaissance Center. Delivering a comprehensive range of wellness services through the web, via the phone and in offices across the country, Proactive Partners also provides total wellness solution programs to enhance employee health and productivity.

"Good companies take good care of their employees and the same can be said for General Motors," said Proactive Partners President Debra Siena. "We are excited to oversee management and wellness services for the RenCen Fitness Center and look forward to helping its members achieve their goals for establishing a healthy and physically fit lifestyle.

The GM Renaissance Center dominates the downtown Detroit skyline, standing 73 stories over the Detroit River with seven towers, 5.5 million square feet of commercial and retail space, four movie theaters, premiere restaurants, a financial center, two foreign consulates and a 1,300 room Marriott hotel. The RenCen fitness center is accessible to the more than 4,000 people who work for RenCen tenant companies, retailers, restaurants and professional service organizations.
